

The Schonstedt Instrument Company, developers and manufacturers of sensitive magnetometers, has moved into a new 22,000 square foot building in Reston, Virginia's industrial center.

Photo by William A. Graham