Dear Prof Warfield

We are of Prof Ming-shen Wang in the Institute of Public Affairs Management, National Sun Yat-sen University, Taiwan.

In the past ten years, Prof Wang introduced to us the "Interactive Management" created by you, we used the method to analyze many issues, such as cognition of multiple groups, consensual strategy for local development in pluralistic societies, administrative strategy for Penghu County's striving for subsidiary gaming industry in special tourism zone, the development strategy for Kaohsiung port for cross-strait direct link under the frame of WTO, and so on.

IM helped us a lot in many aspects. With IM, we could cope with complex issues of public affairs and find causes and solutions of real-life problems. We deeply appreciate your founding efforts, so we would like to send you a little gift to express our gratitude. Would you tell us your address that you can receive the gift conveniently?

Thank you and wish you good health.

Sincerely yours,
Students of Prof Ming-shen Wang

May 1, 2008 - Warfield's email to Taiwanese students & Prof. Wang

Subj: To your Professor Ming-shen Wang
Date: 5/1/2008
To: yutienh@gmail.com

Dear Professor:

Your students have told me about your teaching of "Interactive Management" (IM) to them, and how they have been able to use it in analyzing many issues and in developing strategies for resolving situations of importance, such as a development strategy for the Kaohsiung port for cross-strait direct link under the frame of WTO.

As you might know, only a few professors have taken the time to learn IM and teach it to their students. I am very grateful to you for helping to spread the information about this subject, and congratulate you on your scholarship.

I am not sure if you know of my 2006 book. If not, you can find a description of it at this URL:

<http://www.worldscibooks.com/compsci/6058.html>

In Appendix 1 of this book are photographs of most or perhaps all of the professors who are teaching IM at other universities, and descriptions of what they do. I am sorry that I did not know of your work, for if I had I would have been pleased to include information about your work in the book.

With all good wishes, very truly yours,

John N. Warfield

Last week Prof Ming-shen Wang told us there's "Warfield's Day" of you,
and we're so surprised at that,
Would you tell us the history about that?

Another thing is about the book you mentioned in May,
one of our doctoral students already got the book and prepare to read it.

Thank you!

Sorry to reply the mail late, because I couldn't go on the net these days. We are so glad to know that you like the gift, and I will send the pictures to Prof. Ming-Shen and the other students. Moreover, Prof. Ming-Shen's address is mingshen@mail.nsysu.edu.tw

The other important thing is that I must tell you every time I received your mail, I am always moved.

Just like once you told me "You make many mistakes in your life", the sentence made me think much of my doctoral life.

Thank you, dear Prof Warfield.

Dear Yu-tien:

This morning July 25 my wife Rose and I opened the gift from Taiwan. I must tell you that it is a wonderful gift. Words cannot express my joy with this gift. I do not know what else to say except to thank you with all my heart. Please tell all the students of my appreciation, and to the Professor also.

My wife took some pictures while I was opening the gift. Later I will send these pictures.

Dear Friend:

I tried to send an email again to Prof Ming-shen Wang, and once again the system rejected it. I am wondering if it would be possible to send a fax to him at this number and it would have a good chance of reaching him:

07-5250125

Can you tell me the answer to this question?

Or if there is some better way, perhaps he could send an email to me and tell me the best procedure for contacting him. If the only way is by regular air mail, I can do that.

Thank you.
