GRUMMAN

STEP UP TO THE CONSOLE

AND THE REVOLUTION TAKING PLACE
IN THE WORLD OF NUMERICAL CONTROLLED MACHINING

It's a fact . . . production is changing radically through numerical controlled machining. At Grumman you will step into a world of machining that has little resemblance to the Machine Shops you've known. Machining has arrived with the "Space Age" . . . and the skill of the machinist has a direct bearing on the efficiency and output of console directed machining operations in which a single machine can cost hundreds of thousands of dollars. As a machinist, you will marvel at the fingertip sensitivity with which they can respond to your signal calling at the console.

Does this make the machinist obsolete? Not on your life. The machinist is more valuable than ever as production and machining becomes in essence merged. You've got to see it to grasp it and that's why we are inviting you to visit us and see what's going on. You will see the revolution taking place in your chosen craft and you might want to seize the opportunity and join us.

Grumman, producer of the NASA Lunar Module (LM), the U.S. Navy F-14 Air Superiority Fighter and other advanced Aerospace Vehicles offers: Excellent employee benefits, company paid insurance, vacation, sick leave and pension. Car pool arrangements (if desired).

RCA Board Approves Committee Work On Youth Problems

The Reston Community Association spent most of its meeting time Aug. 25 on the perennial problem of youth, youth facilities and facilities planning.

In a report to the RCA Board, Debby Stewart, co-chairman of the Social Issues Committee, proposed a weekend planning seminar during which interested Restonians and Reston organizations would seek agreement on a possible structure for teen and adult activities. Mrs. Stewart also reported that the Social Issues Committee has taken a role in the re-opening of the Rathskellar, as members have volunteered to chaperone the facility on a regular basis. She also sought backing for a program which calls for the after-hour use of school facilities and for long-range planning to help provide recreational facilities in new school buildings.

Robert W. Davis, board member and architect, responded enthusiastically to the planning seminar proposal. He said that realistically, the project could come up with nothing concrete in less than a year, that facilities are needed now. He proposed that present available facilities be used more "to see what teens want and what will work." Davis said that this information should then be cranked into facility planning.

Davis also said that as much of the money and labor as possible should come from the community, not from Gulf Reston. He anticipated that such a project, which he said would encourage a sense of community achievement, could generate "high enthusiasm."

Board member Pat Kane proposed a "special feasibility Task Force." He also felt that the project could generate enthusiasm.

Following Mrs. Stewart's presentation, the Board debated what its action should be. After Dick Hays expressed the opinion that the SI Committee should be the "mechanism for coordinating and moving forward" in the area of teen problems, he got prompt backing from substitute secretary Sally Larson, who said that Mrs. Stewart should "go until she loses them (teenagers)." Miss Larson said that the numerous committees, groups and individuals who have attempted to deal with the "teen problem" have demonstrated equal lack of progress, that formation of yet another group to work with teens would no doubt alienate the high school set. Miss Larson said that the Teen Committee, for all intents and purposes is "dead" and that the SI Committee appeared to be the "only way to keep the ball rolling."

Mrs. Stewart also reported to the Board on a series of meetings between the Fairfax County Police and the community. The first of three meetings, held Monday, Aug. 4, was called by several Restonians concerned with recent Plaza arrests for loitering. The second, held the next week between the Department's Community Relations

3 Nabbed For Drug Possession

Fairfax County police arrested three individuals in the Reston area last week and charged them with possession of a dangerous drug, marijuana.

Henry H. Crowell, III, 1614 Chimney House Road, was charged after several warrants for other offenses led to his being interrogated at police headquarters. Interrogating policemen noticed what appeared to be needle marks on his arm, obtained a warrant to search his car and found six plastic bags containing 15 pounds of marijuana.

Crowell was charged and released on $25,000 bond until a preliminary hearing Sept. 25.

Also arrested were Jerry Franklin Layne, 32, 12334 Lawyers Road, and Diane Faye Presho, 21, also of 12334 Lawyers Road. The two were charged with possession of marijuana following an Intelligence Squad raid. They were released on $1,000 bond and will appear at preliminary hearings Sept. 25.

Agenda Listed Below

FHOA Board Meets

The Reston First Homeowners Association Board will hold its regular September meeting Wednesday, September 18 at 8:00 p.m. in Lake Anne Hall.

Agenda items for the meeting are as follows:

1. Reading of the minutes.
2. Financial Report on the condition of First Homeowners and Audit Report on FHOA Pete Marwick audit. — Karl Ingebritsen
3. Budgetary Assumptions — the first step in assigning priorities for FHOA in 1970 and beyond. — Fred Naef
4. Statement by Coleson Cluster president Carl Uehlein on the need for FHOA's future playground facilities.
5. Statement by the Reston Community Association on the Architectural Review Board by RCA president Joe Stowers.
6. Procedure for enforcement of covenants — FHOA president Robert M. Perce, Jr.

Developer Withdraws Offer For Colvin Trash Operation

Gulf Reston, Inc. has officially withdrawn its long standing offer to Reston's Homeowners Associations to relinquish control of the Colvin Refuse Company and allow the Associations to take over the operation.

In a letter to both Association presidents, Gulf Reston president William H. Magness said that the developer had "received from tax counsel opinions stating that the tax exempt status of the Associations, applications for which have been pending with and unruly upon by the Internal Revenue Service since 1966, would be jeopardized by any of the methods proposed for the Associations to obtain the benefit of the income derived from the trash collection service."

Magness' letter went on to say, however, that Gulf Reston would "be pleased to reconsider the proposal after a merger or consolidation of the two Homeowners Associations has taken place if, at such time, the Homeowners Association requests Gulf Reston to so reconsider its earlier proposal."

Second Homeowners president Michael

J. Healy received the letter just prior to the SHOA Board meeting held Wednesday, Aug. 20. Healy read excerpts of the letter to the Board but failed to read the offer of reconsideration pending "merger or consolidation."

Other matters to come before SHOA included a financial report on the Association by Executive Director Karl J. Ingebritsen. Board member Magness questioned some gaps in the presentation made by Ingebritsen, and the Director later acknowledged that in the process of aligning the budgetary items into the correct category, he inadvertently left out several "major items."

Ron Smith, chairman of SHOA's Budget Committee, objected to the fact that the Pete Marwick audit, long awaited by the Association did not have page numbers and gave no indication that accounts receivable had been considered in the report. Ingebritsen said that assessment of accounts receivable is a standard auditing procedure, and that had Marwick altered that procedure, there would have been note of it in the report.

Reston Schools Open

The principals of Reston's two elementary schools were both pleased with the order and organization as 1204 youngsters trooped to Lake Anne Elementary and to the new Hunters Woods Elementary Schools.

Hunters Woods, which opened for the first time Tuesday, was minus a cafeteria and air-conditioning, but apparently had the handle on everything necessary to pull off a quiet opening day. Only 20 classrooms of the 33 classroom building were finished for opening day, but construction on other parts of the building did not interfere with the first day's instruction. Despite the fear of several teachers that furniture would not arrive at the school in time for opening day, both children's and teachers' desks were in place when the school's 625 pupils entered the building.

Stuart Chaplain, principal at the new school, and his staff have been working literally day and night to prepare for the opening, and apparently the efforts paid off, as a school staffer described the first day as "beautiful."

Lake Anne Elementary also opened on a smooth note, according to principal Mrs. Margie Thompson. Mrs. Thompson said that her staff was prepared at a level she had never seen before, and that she anticipated a high quality program of instruction for Lake Anne students.

Mrs. Thompson also announced the appointment of Mrs. Emily Benson as new cafeteria manager. The principal praised Mrs. Benson's interest in providing good school lunches and said she was fortunate to have the new cafeteria head.

Hunters Woods students will not have use of a cafeteria until October or possibly November and must bring sack lunches. The school will provide milk at 4 cents per half pint.

Chaplain Addresses HW PTA

O. Stuart Chaplain, principal of the new Hunters Woods Elementary School, addressed the HW PTA Tuesday, Aug. 26 at the organization's first executive committee meeting.

Chaplain told the PTA that Hunters Woods will be a non-graded school, that is, the curriculum will be arranged so that pupils will be permitted to progress at a rate most suitable to them. He also said that the new school will feature team teaching. Each teacher will teach all subjects and will work with every child in her team at one time or another, but teachers with skills in special areas are, Chaplain said, "expected to take the leadership for planning with the team to open the doors to better instruction and thus a better education for all children." To expedite this type of program, a team of several teachers will have the joint responsibility for planning, executing and evaluating the educational program for a specific number of children.

Chaplain also said that there will be cross-age grouping. He says that there will be multi-age groupings for social studies, health, physical education, music, art and lunch periods. However, there will be a block of 1½ hours each day in the morning and afternoon devoted to mathematics-science and language arts-reading.

There will be a regrouping within the team according to the ability of the child in those subject areas, again allowing the child to go as far and fast as he can master the skills.

The principal said that the first few days of school will be taken up in testing to diagnose each child's strengths and weaknesses, and that progress reporting will be on the new County Progress Report, hopefully with two of the four reporting periods as parent conferences.

Chaplain told parents that children who choose to walk to school in the fall and spring must also walk during the winter, as bus counts are taken during the first few weeks of school.

The PTA also heard Mrs. Nancy Wist, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee present ideas for money-raising, including giving a dance, conducting a house tour, or slating a card party or game night. The committee was asked to discuss the proposals so that a decision could be made at the next meeting, to be held Tuesday, Sept. 9 at 8:15 p.m. in the HW School. The committee would appreciate comments on these possibilities as well as other suggestions. Interested individuals can register ideas by calling Ken Turner, 437-3391; Randy Harrington, 471-7327; or Betty Wist, 437-1952.

Bus Draws Attention

The successful operation of the Reston Commuter Bus, the inception and continuation of which was recently chronicled by Henry Bain of the Washington Center for Metropolitan Studies, has gone international in terms of the publicity it has received.

Last Friday, Aug. 29, the RCA sponsored bus system was the subject of a story on the CBS morning news with Joseph Benti. The story was photographed last Thursday with CBS reporter Marion Golden.

The Center report has also prompted the American Transit Association to invite Karl J. Kingebritsen to address the Public Relations Division session of the ATA in Montreal Wednesday, Oct. 8. The subject of the session is contract service promoting do-it-yourself bus lines. Another member of the panel will be William Nix, an Atlanta transit official, who was instrumental in organizing commuter bus service to and from the giant Lockheed plants in Marietta, Ga.

Winter Concerts Announced By Chorale, Center

The Northern Virginia Music Center has announced the beginning of subscription sales for its first winter season.

In making the announcement this week, the Center outlined a season of six concerts with the possibility of two bonus concerts depending upon the subscription sales.

Operating partly under a grant from the Reston Foundation for Community Programs and drawing on the talents of the Reston Chorale, the Chamber Orchestra and selected soloists, the concert season will begin Oct. 17 in the Washington Plaza Baptist Church in an all Mozart program including the Symphonia Concertante for violin and viola featuring Eliot Magaziner, violin, and Sally Trembly, viola.

Center officials said that only 350 season subscriptions will be available. Purchase of the $10 membership will entitle the member to guaranteed seats for chamber concerts in the Washington Plaza Baptist Church and High School. Single seats will be sold on a when-available basis at $2 per concert at the church, where the size of the audience is limited. Single tickets will also be sold for the Herndon High concerts.

Tickets will be transferable.

Other concerts in the series are as follows (bonus concerts are tentative at this point):

November 21: Herndon High School, The Reston Chorale and the Northern Virginia Music Center Orchestra will perform Vivaldi's "Gloria" and Faure's "Requiem." Soloists to be announced.

December 12: HHS, Chorale and Orchestra will perform Handel's "Messiah." Soloists to be announced.

January 16: (bonus) WP Baptist Church, Eliot Magaziner, violin, and David Poliakin, piano. Program to be announced.

February 20: Church, Dorothy Skidmore, flute, and William Skidmore, cello, will perform. Program to be announced.

March 20: Church, The Reston Trio, with Eliot Magaziner, violin, Sally Trembly, viola, and David Poliakin, piano. Program to be announced. The Reston Trio is currently touring the United States and have been scheduled for at least one performance at Carnegie Hall.

April 17: (bonus) Church, Chamber Orchestra with vocal soloist. Program and artist to be announced.

May 1: HHS, Chorale and Orchestra will perform Mendelssohn's "Elijah."

A third "bonus" concert will be presented by the Chorale and the Orchestra July 4, 1970 to close the winter season and to open the series of summer concerts.

"In The Black"

Black Festival Termed Success

The Reston Black Focus glided through its three day festival on wheels well oiled by the sweat of fastidious preparation and hard work. From the kick-off dance through the African buffet, the smoothness of organization was everywhere apparent.

The Festival was a success, both financial and in terms of visitors to the exhibits and demonstrations. Festival officials estimated that between three and five thousand visitors crammed into Lake Anne Center Sunday, with a somewhat lesser number on Monday.

The kick-off dance, held at Isaac Newton Cafeteria Saturday night, was attended by more than 250 people, including Gulf Reston president William H. Magness and G-R Executive vice-president Glenn W. Saunders.

Sunday's activities began with a church service conducted in the Plaza. Embury C. Rucker, rector of the Episcopal Congregation in Reston, donned purple vestments with the word "Peace" emblazoned upon them and led a procession of about 30 worshippers from the parking lot to the fountain in the Plaza, where a giant black Christ's head was affixed to the highest point of the fountain. The service featured traditional readings of the Scriptures and a few new departures. Mrs. Pat Harbour, of Brookshore Court, presented a dramatic interpretation of black poet James Weldon Johnson's "Creation," and Rodney Smith, Coleson Cluster, blew a haunting, unaccompanied version of "Sometimes I Feel like a Motherless Child" and some jazz improvisations on an alto saxophone. Music at the service was accompanied by two Reston youths' guitar playing.

Meanwhile, at the Redeemer United Methodist Church, the Rev. Douglas Moore, head of the Black United Front, spoke to parishioners on the role of the black church in the total development of the civil rights movement and in black culture. According to pastor Robert Regan, the Sunday morning atten-

Energy

A somewhat awe-inspiring aspect of any volunteer effort, whether it be with the Reston Chorale, the Reston Black Focus or the Reston Players, is the awareness of tremendous creative energy seething below the normal line of vision and suddenly erupting into the community in the form of a choral program, a black culture festival or the cathartic awakening of an intense drama.

Last weekend's Black Focus Festival conjured up those same volcanic visions of a white hot flow of organizational talent commanding the attention of Restonians and visitors.

One of the main reasons for the success of the Focus festival was that it had a recognized "cause," the positive assertion of the stature of blacks in Reston and, for that matter, in the nation and world. When there is "cause", whether its influence be positive or negative, kinetic energy surfaces and manifests itself in visible action.

It appears that there is a great talent bank in Reston, with highly specialized skills in practically every activity known, just waiting for a withdrawal. This has been apparent in a number of situations — the organization of the RCA commuter bus system, the innumerable hours spent in housing conferences and racism seminars, the presentation of and participation in musical and theatrical programs.

If there is a lesson to be learned from the Black Focus Festival, it is that the talent is there and where there is cause, that talent can be ordered into creative projects.

This is perhaps what RCA Board member Robert W. Davis had in mind when he said that a facilities building project could generate a lot of enthusiasm in the community, and this is also, perhaps what prompts his suggestion that much of the money and labor for such a project should come from the community and not from the developer. The latter has already channeled most of his resources into the construction of houses, streets, apartments, etc. On the other hand, most of the talent resource of the community is fallow, and another RCA Board member, Jeffery O. Wellborn, said that the goal of RCA in the problems of youth is to marshal leadership which can utilize that resource.

Leadership is a key word. Reston has lots of executive "generals," but relatively few sergeants and corporals who have the ability to translate ideas into bricks and concrete.

Assuming the leadership in the planning for an all-community facility, co-ordinating with the Homeowners Association(s), the developer, the religious community, provides a prime opportunity to exercise creative direction and organization for such a community institution as RCA.

Latest Poll Results

Since the last edition of the Reston Times, nine additional ballots have come in reflecting opinions on whether Reston should or should not have a country club.

Five of the new votes were "No's," one was "Yes," and three indicated that other alternatives should be explored. Total count as of Sept. 4 is as follows: Favoring the country club, 14. Opposed to the country club, 44. Favoring other alternatives, 17. Total number of votes to date is 75.

Letters To The Editor

Does Ad Seek Blacks?

Editor, The Reston Times:

A classified advertisement in the Washington Post on Aug. 24 read "Sell for Reston"...immediate opening for a young man with a Virginia Real Estate License."

Perhaps the Gulf Reston executive who approved this advertisement meant to ask for all qualified applicants, black or white. However, to the young black man with local real estate experience this method of seeking applicants definitely says "white man wanted." The black community sees this type of advertisement as support for labeling Reston as another "exclusive community." If Gulf Reston really desires blacks on its sales force, this must be explicitly stated in all advertisements and a Virginia Real Estate license cannot be a prerequisite for a job interview.

If Reston is to be an open community where the black workers from local industry and government installations feel welcome, black sales personnel are mandatory. Employing black salesmen in communities that are not all black is unusual, but there are few precedents for open diverse communities in contemporary America. If Gulf Reston uses only the standard proven tools of the real estate trade then standard single color, single socio-economic class development will result. If an open, diverse community is really desired, Gulf Reston must use novel, if not radical, procedures.

It is clear that Gulf Reston executives are not personally experienced with or deeply sensitive to the key requirements for building a racially diverse community. But my despair does not stem from the fact that these men have lived in a white world where black men did not exist. Rather, I lament the fact that this advertisement appeared several weeks after a group of Reston citizens pointed out to Glenn Saunders, Executive Vice President of Gulf Reston, that having an all white sales force discourages many black families from making Reston their home. Mr. Saunders responded at that time that first; no qualified blacks had sought out Gulf Reston for sales jobs and second; the sales force was currently overstaffed by a couple of people.

I submit that if Gulf Reston is really planning an open, diverse community they must actively recruit qualified blacks for residential sales.

Edward G. Sharp

Missed Point

Editor, The Reston Times:

Your editorial on Cedar Ridge missed the point. We don't need reassurances that people who live at Cedar Ridge will be just like the rest of us.

The real questions are:

When will Gulf Reston see the opportunities it has here? When it has in Reston a laboratory for working out some of the most crucial questions facing the housing industry and the Nation, and the residents of Reston are encouraging them to innovate, why is Gulf Reston not experimenting with ways to build low-

Reston In Retrospect

A Column of Comment and Opinion Concerning Major Issues Affecting the Future of Reston.

On May 21, 1966, the gala dedication of the city of Reston was held in the Plaza. VIP's, including ambassadors from other nations having New Towns, were seated on a platform in front of the Baptist Church area. Marshall Hahn, president of V.P.I. and a Foundation Board member, presided; Governor Godwin gave a laudatory address, citing the planned city of Williamsburg as Reston's ancestor. HUD Secretary Weaver placed HUD's first medal for urban pioneers around Mr. Simon's neck, and Mrs. Simon, who wrote for the occasion a poetic eulogy of Reston, received a bouquet of red roses. Secretary Udall announced the signing of the contract under which the U. S. Geological Survey is to move to Reston.

The Money Crunch

Then, in 1966, came the "tight money" crisis in the housing market -- the most obvious in a series of financial blows that would have stopped any man I know except Mr. Simon. Despite the increasingly serious financial crises, Mr. Simon's conviction of the importance of the Reston style of living continually mounted.

Senator Harry Flood Byrd, Jr., came to dedicate the Lake Anne Elementary School, symbolizing Reston's acceptance into the heart of the Old Dominion.

Income mix in Reston has been a silent factor in its development. Even though there has been no low cost housing here, there has been a wider income range among residents than is usual in suburban areas - e.g., house prices in the same block differ as much as $24,000 (one nearby new community limits house prices to a range of $3,000 in a given neighborhood).

Where are Joneses?

One summer dusk at the lakeside steps, Mr. Simon was talking with a townhouse resident, who mused upon his finding an absence of a certain kind of stress and strain in Reston. Mr. Simon said, "Could it be that you cannot find the Joneses?" And where but in Reston will you find a Foreign Service family, whose Reston house is occupied by long-term tenants, so desirous of spending home leave in their own community that they happily dwell in a tent at Lake Fairfax to be near Reston, their own town?

On July 25, 1967, I was awakened about 7:30 a.m. by a telephone call from a sleepy Bernie Norwich, Vice-president for Public Relations, who said, "Get to the office in a hurry -- Ladybird Johnson is visiting Reston at noon today." When I arrived, thirty minutes later, everybody was manicuring the place. She was a gracious, well-informed and interested visitor; the children followed her as if she were the Pied Piper. It was a happy day. There were sad days, too -- such as the one on which the Northern Virginia Community College decided not to build a campus in Reston.

Ryan: "Preserve and Nurture"

On Sept. 7 of that year, at 9:30 a.m. in the conference room at the Executive Office, Mr. Simon, in the presence of the staff, spoke to Mr. Ryan about Reston and his hopes for it. Mr. Ryan responded, saying he had found that in Reston there is a sense of community, which he hoped to preserve and nurture. Thus was the informal transference of power from Reston Va., Inc. to Gulf Reston, Inc.

A community festival had been from the early days one of Mr. Simon's heart's desires. He took various steps to inspire one, but it was his departure that produced the first one, the Harvest Festival of November 3, 1967.

Mr. Ryan stayed until May of this year. His style was different from Mr. Simon's; he may be said

The Hornets were working on the ground game, and this running back, who went off left tackle is about to find out that a short gain often means a long trip to the ground.

Grid Season Begins Sept. 12

The Herndon High School Hornets '69 grid team has been working in the classroom and on the field since Aug. 18 boning up for the first official battle of the season against West Springfield at home on Friday, Sept. 12, 8 p.m.

During pre-Labor Day practice, head coach Jimmy Ashwell said that the Hornets will have a number of good hands downfield this year and that there is a quarterback able to get the ball to them.

A lot of Herndon's offensive ground punch will probably come from hard-running John Tezar, a Reston junior who recently transferred from a school in Indiana. Tezar's 190 pounds have consistently torn holes in defensive lines during summer practice sessions.

Long-throwing first line quarterback Jimmy Sanders, a junior, and running back Denver Riggleson also figure to add sting to the Hornet attack.

Offensive ends Pat Rooney and John Haire may be frequent receivers when the Hornet strategy calls for an air game, and quarterback Sanders will receive good support from an improved offensive line, according to practice observers.

The Hornet JV's open their season Thursday, Sept. 18 at 4 p.m. when they clash with Oakton's JV's on Herndon ground.

Fairfax Race Set

The race for the Bowman Bowl, a torturous three-mile timber race for a $2500 purse, will head a program of seven races at the 12th Annual Fairfax Hunt Races to be held Saturday, Sept. 20 beginning at 2 p.m. on Reston's steeplechase. All proceeds will go to the Fairfax Hospital.

The Bowman Cup race, described as one of the toughest timber races on the East Coast has 17 fences and will feature leading riders from all over the eastern U. S., many of whom have spent the last month in Saratoga. Other races on the program include the one-and-three-quarter mile Chantilly Maiden Hurdles, with a purse of $1200, the two-mile Seven Corners Hurdles, $2,000, the one-and-one-eighth mile flat race for the Stirrup Cup and a purse of $500.

The Difficult Run, a one-and-one-quarter mile flat race will be ridden by ladies in racing silks on three year olds and up. This race, the Lord Bryan Fairfax and the George Mason, all for amateurs, will have trophy prizes.

Mike Rowe, an English huntsman, will have the Fairfax Hounds on demonstration during the program. Rowe has won the championship at the Virginia Hound Show with terriers, and is a nationally recognized dog expert.

Tickets for the race will be on sale at the office of the Virginia Gentleman Distillery on Sunset Hills Road. Advance General Admission tickets purchased before the day of the races will be $2, $3 on race day. A special member ticket, which entitles the purchaser to preferred parking and two member tickets is $15. An additional $15 will get a reserved parking place. Tickets are also available through the Public Relations office of Fairfax Hospital.

Some of last year's top riders, owners and trainers are expected to be on hand for the annual event. Top money and race winner, Joe Aitcheson, Jr., will return this year as will Larry Fishback and Ron Armstrong. Aitcheson won 36 races in Steeplechase competition during 1968.

Mrs. Bearman Returns As LANK Head

G. Ashley Cooper paid tribute to Mrs. Edna Quinn, interim director of Lake Anne Nursery Kindergarten, and welcomed the return of Mrs. Dorothy Bearman, former director, at July's board meeting.

Mrs. Bearman spent the past year in Cambridge, Mass. where her husband was studying at the East Asian Research Center. During her year in Boston, Mrs. Bearman worked as an educational consultant at the Museum of Science on a project geared toward inner-city pre-school children.

LANC, Reston's first pre-school established in 1965, is a non-profit school staffed professionally with a teacher-training program as part of the pre-school operation.

L. Saperstone Slates Adult Dance Classes

Adult dance classes are being formed under the direction of Laurie Saperstone. Mrs. Saperstone is continuing the dance instruction offered last year by Margo Giordano.

She brings to Reston much experience in modern dance. She studied with May Atherton at Cornell University and with Ethel Butler in Washington, both of whom were members of Martha Graham's original company.

Last year Mrs. Saperstone taught creative dance for children of elementary age at Lake Anne Hall.

This year's adult classes will be geared to beginners and to those who wish to get back into shape.

Beltway League To Open '69 Season On Sept. 13

Reston's two contributions to the Beltway football little league will open the season with an away game in Wheaton Saturday, Sept. 13, when the 95 lb. boys take on a Maryland team. The 80 lb. boys will open their season Sept. 20. No opponent has yet been named, and it has not been determined whether the game will be at home or away.

An official weigh-in will be held Saturday, Sept. 6 in Wheaton, at which time boys will be qualified for both the 95 pound and the 80 pound teams.

According to Ed Meisenheimer, Reston may be able to field two "A" teams next year, possibly with another 95 pound and a 110 pound team.

He said that the 95 pound team, the Reston Rams, coached by Doug Conner, and the 80 pound team, the Reston Roadrunners, coached by Ed Jackson, would each play a 10 game season capped off by a "super bowl" game to be played in Wheaton. He said that the Beltway League has 64 member teams.

Because 60 boys turned out for the Roadrunners, Meisenheimer said that generally the eight and nine-year-olds have been placed on a "B" team. He also hinted that the players would be platooned, as two complete teams of "topflight" players turned out to practice.

Financial support of the teams comes from members of the Reston Business and Professional Men's Association, and to date Gulf Reston, Inc., Wellborn Properties, Ronald Taylor, A.I.A., and the Gulf gasoline station in Lake Anne Village have made contributions. Vince Montella is handling the fund raising aspect of the program, and Meisenheimer was optimistic that Montella would be successful in attaining the necessary contributions to wipe out the teams' $1000 debt.

"It's still early in the season, and if the same people who contributed last year come through this year, we'll be solvent," Meisenheimer said.

Average sale price of a new single family home in Hawaii is $29,238, against a national average of $19,638.

Boat Rentals Continue Into Fall

Ron Taylor, of Crescent Apartments, and Rich Gaver, of Hunters Woods, both Reston teens, will continue the Homeowners boat rental operation until Lake Anne is lowered, according to Karl J. Ingebritsen, Executive Director.

On weekdays, the boat rentals will be available through

Lake Anne Hall.

The Director said that the Homeowners will offer a prize for the largest number of fish caught from Lake Anne from a rented boat or canoe. Catch records will be kept by Gaver and Taylor, and Reston fishermen should be sure to register their catches, Ingebritsen said.

What to do now about TERRIBLE LAWNS

Last spring, you went by the book . . . You put down weed, feed . . . you spreaded, sprayed, even prayed. And now, look at your lawn. It's a sorry mess. Why? The answer is there's no such thing as universal lawn care. A lawn, like a human, is a living thing. Lawn ailments, like those of humans, must be treated individually and not by some blanket black magic.

The Auto-Lawn method works because we diagnose what's wrong with YOUR lawn, then we custom-blend an exact prescription, applied automatically to cure the trouble. Result? A lush, healthy lawn for your home, and more leisure time for you.

If your lawn looks more like a living nightmare than a living carpet, you have a choice: Go on gambling away your dollars with the hopes you'll finally hit on the right remedy. Or, for just a little more than the cost of the chemicals alone, call in The Lawn Doctor NOW with the knowledge that you'll see a vast improvement by fall. The Lawn Doctor. They don't call us that without a reason.

Herndon Council To Be Sworn In

Mayor Richard J. Bennett and the town council will be sworn in for a two-year term by Clerk of the Circuit Court Frank Gooding on Tuesday, Sept. 9.

This will be Mayor Bennett's third term of office. All of the councilmen to be sworn in are incumbents except Earl R. White. Other members of the council are Charles E. Allen, Joseph L. Griffiths, Holden S. Harrison, Justus M. Holme, Jr., and Robert B. Smithes.

The Town Sergeant, Joseph L. Murray and the Town Clerk, Mrs. Bernece Hoover, will also be sworn in.

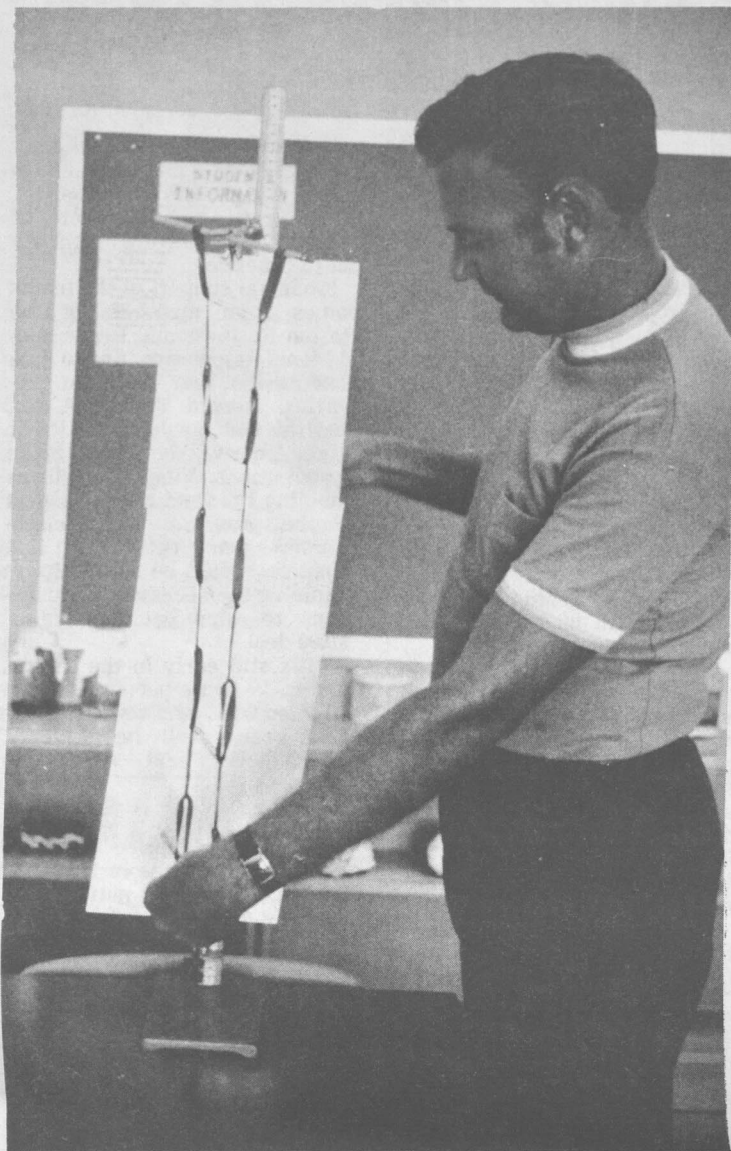

Following the swearing-in ceremony, a regular meeting of the town council will be held.

There will be a hearing on the application of Penn-Park Realty Corporation (contract owners) to rezone to townhouses a portion of the Myres and Riddell tract that is now zoned single family. The tract is next to the Ballou subdivision.

A report will be heard on the cost differences of decals vs. metal plates for Herndon car license tags.

There will also be a discussion of a resolution adopted by the Vienna council asking the General Assembly to tighten drunk driving laws.

Appointments will be made to the Planning Commission and to the Herndon School Board which administers an education fund.

Joseph Exline with his Molecule Model

Local Teacher Makes Molecule Model Kit

In an effort to devise a model kit for the DNA molecule that will make a student think before he puts it together, Herndon High teacher Joseph D. Exline has developed a model out of such common place objects as rubber bands, paper clips, and gummed paper reinforcements.

There are many commercial models of the deoxyribonucleic acid model available in a wide range of prices, but Exline said "the students don't have to think to put them together."

After class instruction in the structure and importance of this basis-of-life molecule, Exline gives his students envelopes containing paper clips in two sizes and two colors, two sizes of rubber-bands, and circular gummed paper reinforcements. He challenges them to make their own model, suggesting that two pencils be used to suspend it. This enables the student to show the spirals and twists the molecule can take in the human structure.

There are several possible forms the model can take, depending on the student's knowledge of the molecule. Exline feels that the inquiry approach to science and use of the discovery method results in more effective learning.

An article describing Exline's model, titled "An Inexpensive Model of the DNA Molecule," will be published in the October issue of Science Activities, an educational journal. It is also being considered for publication by the American Biology Teacher. Exline has used the model at Herndon High and at Ohio State University, where he received his masters degree.

He has taught at Herndon for seven years.

Reston Chorale Sets Auditions

The Reston Chorale will begin a busy winter season Sept. 15 with brief auditions and a business meeting for new and present members.

The Chorale, under the direction of James Christian Pfohl, has slated three winter performances as part of a six-concert Winter series package with the Chamber Orchestra of the Northern Virginia Music Center. The concerts, all of which will be with symphony orchestra, will include Handel's "Messiah," Mendelssohn's "Elijah" and a Nov. 21 performance of Vivaldi's "Gloria" and Faure's "Requiem." All Chorale concerts are to be in Herndon High School's auditorium.

The Chorale will also perform at the July 4 Pops Concert in Lake Anne Plaza.

According to Brooks Corl, spokesman for the group, the Chorale anticipates that there will be more than 70 voices this year. He said that the Chorale welcomes the participation of "anyone who likes to sing." He particularly stressed that the Chorale would welcome new members from the surrounding areas of Herndon, Vienna, Great Falls, etc.

Prospective members should call the NoVa. Music Center office, 471-4340, to schedule brief auditions for the evening of Sept. 15. Following auditions, a business meeting for both new and old members will be held at 8:15 p.m. in Lake Anne Hall.

First full rehearsal will be held Monday, Sept. 22 at 8 p.m., and subsequent rehearsals will be held Mondays at 8:00 to 10:00 p.m.

For further information, call Douglas Kleine, president, 471-1337.

United Traffic Increases at Dulles

Passenger traffic of United Air Lines for the first six months this year at Dulles International Airport increased at a greater rate than at National Airport.

The airline reported a rise of 16 percent in passengers boarded and deplaned at Dulles for the January-June period, while National's traffic was up 13 percent from a year ago. At Dulles, United had 252,184 passengers arriving or departing on its flights, compared with 216,794 the first half of 1968. National reported 773,740 passengers this year, while a year ago the figure was 682,617 passengers.

At National, express and freight flown in and out rose 11 percent to 11,058,500 pounds. Both mail categories were down -- air mail off 26 percent to 3,103,700 pounds, and first class mail down 10 percent for 3,151,800 pounds.

United's operations at Dulles produced an increase of 36 percent in express and freight to 2,513,900 pounds.

Restonians In PR Seminar

The Public Relations Society of America has invited Reston business and community leaders to participate in a seminar on "Communications Today and Tomorrow in New Towns."

Glenn W. Saunders, Gulf Reston executive vice-president and Karl J. Ingebritsen, HOA executive director, have accepted invitations to serve on a panel at the Mid-Atlantic Conference of the Public Relations Society of America in Harrisburg, Sept. 10-11. Panel moderator will be James A. Morrissey, a Reston resident and secretary of the Washington Chapter of PRSA.

Some 250 public relations professionals from the five-state mid-Atlantic area are expected to attend the two-day seminar dealing with a broad spectrum of communications problems.

Saunders and Ingebritsen will explain some of the problems involved in communicating the new town concept and programs to present and potential residents and businessmen.

Morrissey said the Reston officials were invited to participate in the panel because of the Conference's emphasis on urban problems and the role that the new town concept can play in solving problems of cities.

He said the public relations officials are interested in the success of Reston and the lessons that other communities can learn from the Reston experience.

Participants in the two-day conference will be the guests of Governor Raymond P. Shafer at a reception at the state mansion Sept. 10.

Doubles Matches End

By MARY WALKER

Reston Times Contributing Writer

In the finals of the Lake Anne Tennis Club's Mixed Doubles Tournament on Aug. 24, Margaret and John Evans defeated Monira and Shafik Rifaat 6-4, 7-5. Pitted against Mr. Evans' uncanny ability to place the ball where they weren't, even Mrs. Rifaat's cool efficiency and her husband's powerful smashes weren't enough for victory. The Evanses' consistency and strategy were lovely to watch as point after point, Mr. Evans lobbed the ball deep into his opponents' court and reached the net in time for one of his unreturnable cross-court shots.

The two semi-final matches were devoid of much close competition. The Evanses routed Mary Margaret and Dave Burtis, 6-1, 6-0, thanks mainly to Mr. Evans' remarkably consistent and intelligent placing. In the other semi-final match the fine teamwork of Monira and Shafik Rifaat defeated Bernie and David Cox, 6-3, 6-0, in spite of Mr. Cox's accurate net game and impressive serving.

Ladies' Doubles Matches

Ladies of the Lake Anne Tennis Club will team up to play doubles against ladies from Carter Rocks Springs Tennis Club on Sunday morning, Sept. 7 at the Hook Road courts.

Robert E. Simon Tourney

The annual Robert E. Simon Tennis Tournament for members of the Lake Anne Tennis Club (singles for ladies, men, and juniors) will be held Sept. 13 and 14, and 20 and 21 at the Hook Road courts. There will be a beer party for the membership at Lake Anne Hall after the finals on Sunday, Sept. 21.

Art Show Opens

A one man show of paintings and drawings by Ronald Morgan reopened at Emerson Gallery Tuesday. The Gallery had been closed during July and August. The exhibition will be shown through Sept. 27, Tuesday through Saturday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at 6822 Poplar Place, McLean.

The 23-year-old artist, born in Hawaii and now a resident of Washington, D. C., is primarily a colorist. His paintings are done in acrylic.

Emerson Gallery maintains a selection of works by well-known Washington area arts and gallery artists including paintings, prints, drawings and sculpture; also works by a number of the gallery's board of directors.

Auto Wreck Fatal

Judy Caroline Thomas, 24, of Foxcroft Apartments, Fairfax, was pronounced dead on arrival at the Fairfax Hospital early Saturday morning following a single car accident on Route 602 about a mile south of Reston.

Fairfax County Police said that Miss Thomas' car apparently went out of control, left the road, sideswiped a utility pole and came to rest after ramming into a dirt pile.

The accident was reported to police at 12:54 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 30.

GF Players Set Readings Next Week

The Great Falls Players will hold open auditions for their fall presentation of Barefoot in the Park, by Neil Simon.

Readings for the parts of three women and two men will be held at St. Francis-in-the-Field Sept. 14 at 2:30 p.m. Interested people should call Director Dick Parks for more information.

Parks also said that the Players need a variety of backstage skills, and that willing workers are welcome.

Barefoot in the Park will be presented Nov. 7 and 8 and Nov. 14 and 15 at the Great Falls Park.

There will be a membership party for area residents interested in becoming a part of the GF Players Saturday, Sept. 13 at the Weisel residence in Great Falls. Dinner is $1.50 per couple, and drinks may be purchased. All are welcome, and more information is available at 759-2488.

Do You Need Help? Try FISHing!

Can FISH help you? FISH is the effort of concerned people to provide immediate help in a crisis to everyone who needs it. If you live in Herndon, Reston, Sterling Park, or Great Falls area, the FISH number, 591-4638, should be on your list of emergency numbers of fire department, etc. In a crisis, call FISH if you need: baby-sitting for young or old, transportation, clothes, food or meal preparation, furniture, or just someone to talk to.

FISH is not only for those of low income. Crises can occur in any household. In the past month, Herndon-Reston FISH has provided such varied services as preparing food for a father and seven children when the mother was killed in a car accident, transporting a handicapped child to a remedial clinic, and finding a companion for an elderly woman. If the FISH volunteer can not provide help from FISH, he can assist you in finding the available agency to solve your problem.

The FISH idea is about ten years old in the U.S. and has spread across the nation. Over eight programs are functioning in the Washington metropolitan area. Volunteers from religious groups plus other interested persons have organized the local program. Any volunteer is welcome and should call 471-1073 or 471-7078 for more information. Donations of clothing, food, furniture, bedding, or toys are welcome.

For assistance, call 591-4638 and help will be on the way.

Area Artists Sought For FCCA Show

All area artists are invited to enter paintings and sculpture in the "Fall Festival of Arts" to be held at Tysons Corner Center Sept. 18 through 21.

Original works done by artists now residing in Northern Virginia, Washington, D.C. and adjacent counties are eligible for the competition. Artists are asked to submit only works done in the 1968-69 period. Works that were shown in the January or June F.C.C.A. shows should not be submitted.

Awards will be presented in a reception that will be held on Sept. 21 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Reston Black Festival Draws Thousands

dance was somewhat higher than normal. Regan also said that Moore was very well received by the congregation.

During the rest of the day Sunday, art exhibits, children's art and drumming classes, displays of black history and African art and sculpture, and fashion shows and performances on the steps of the Washington Plaza Baptist Church were available to visitors.

Two incidents marred what was otherwise a near perfect execution of the festival. A tray of African jewelry put on display in the Crafts House by African Highlife was stolen. Owners of the jewelry, which was locked in a glass case, assessed the loss at $90. Also, sometime Sunday night, unknown vandals removed the black Christ's head from atop its fountain perch and after damaging it somewhat, dumped it out on Reston Avenue.

A Hunters Woods teenager driving into the Center saw the papier mache sculpture and returned it to Festival workers.

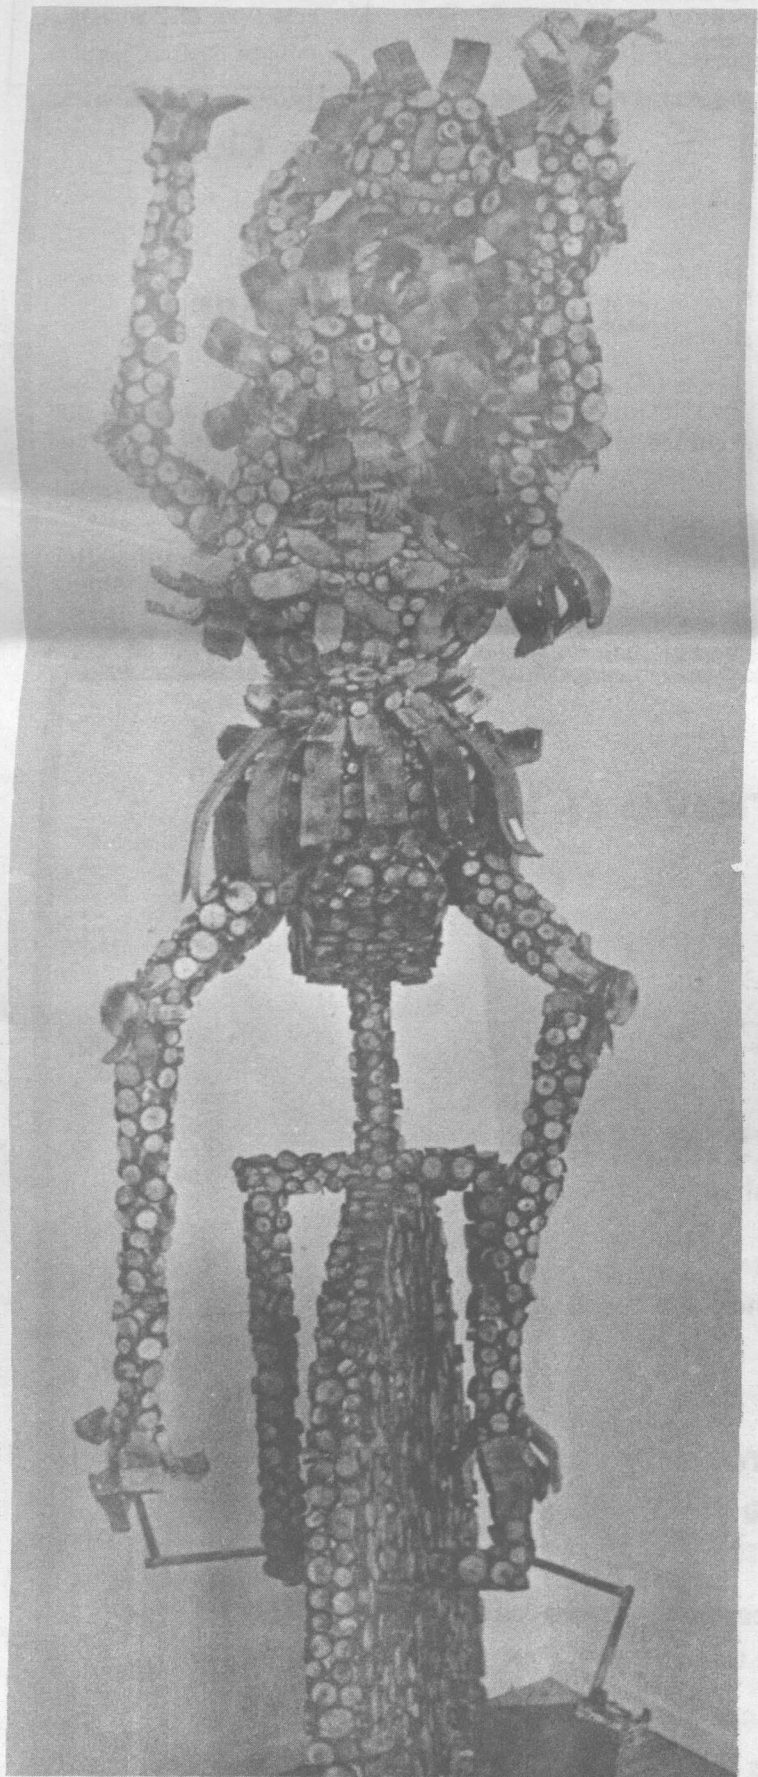

The festival drew, in addition to many visitors from Washington and suburban Virginia, at least 87 foreigners who were taken in Monday afternoon by 225 Reston host families. More than 20 countries were represented among the visitors, all of whom are in the United States for periods of from nine months to three years to study such diverse areas as irrigation and data processing.

Members of Reston Black Focus were, to put it mildly, "very pleased" with the way the festival came off. One Reston Black, when asked what had been accomplished by the Festival, said "we have established ourselves as a significant part of the community despite our smallness." Another member of Black Focus said that the organization had "given consideration" to the thought of making the festival a permanent fixture, but had not decided the matter yet.

Black Focus workers expressed deep appreciation to all of the Reston residents who participated in the festival, either by loaning African artifacts to the displays or working on any of the festival's many events.

Parker Wins Award

FORT LEE, Va.-- Army Reserve Colonel Neill E. Parker, of 2401 Red Maple Lane, Reston, has been designated a logistician at the U. S. Logistics Management Center here.

Col. Parker, commissioned in 1943, has a mobilization assignment as Area Engineer, U. S. Army Engineer District, Los Angeles, Calif. In civilian life he is a civil engineer with the Office of the Chief of Engineers at the Pentagon.

He is a graduate of the Associate Army Logistics Management Course at the Army Logistics Management Center. In addition, he has attended the Defense Logistics Instructor Development Course at the Center, and has completed the Defense Procurement Management Extension Course. He also has a civil engineering degree from the University of Southern California.

He is a member of the Society of American Military Engineers, and the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Col. Parker has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal, the Asiatic-Pacific Theater Medal, American Defense Medal, American Theater Medal, and the World War II Victory Medal.

Col. Parker was presented a framed logistician certificate at the conclusion of the two-week Associate Army Logistics Management Course at the Army Logistics Management Center. Lt. Gen. William R. Peers, Chief, Office of Reserve Components, was the graduation exercise speaker.

LWV Begins Fall Session

Fall is League time and the Herndon-Reston Units of the Fairfax Area League of Women Voters will be holding their September orientation and program meetings in residents' homes. All interested ladies are welcome. The topic for discussion and evaluation will be Joint Resolution No. 25, better known as the proposed amendment to the Virginia Constitution which would allow state and local aid for the private sectarian and non-sectarian education of handicapped children.

In February, 1969, the General Assembly met in special session to consider the Report made by the Governor's Commission on Constitutional Revision. The Legislature passed many proposed revisions which, if concurred in by the regular session of the General Assembly in 1970, will be brought to the voters for their approval or rejection by referendum some time next year. If the General Assembly approves the work of the special session, the ballot will contain six propositions, one of which is SJR 25. The other propositions will be studied by the LWV in the spring.

The evening unit will meet Sept. 10 at 8 p.m. at Mrs. Max Libman's, 105 Greenbrier Ct., 471-4041, Unit Chairman, Mrs. Burton Lamkin; and the day unit on Sept. 11 at 9:30 a.m. at Mrs. Reed LaFerriere's, 11226 Fairway Drive, 471-4285, Unit Chairman, Mrs. Merritt Olson.

Antique Show

The Tenth Annual Antique Show sponsored by St. Thomas Parish will be held Sept. 5, 6 and 7 in Edelen Brothers' Tobacco Warehouse at the junction of Routes 301 and 408 just outside Upper Marlboro, Md.

The Show will open Sept. 5 (Friday) at 11 a.m. with seventy-one (71) selected dealers displaying coins, china, dolls, swords, glass, furniture and unusual items dating back to colonial days. Largest rural Antique Show in the East, it has been attended previously by 40,000 persons.

Show hours are Sept. 5 and 6, 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Sept. 7 (Sunday), 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Admission will be $1.25.

RCA Board Meets

staff and the Committee, preceded a meeting between the two community relations police officers and Reston teenagers.

Mrs. Stewart said that during that meeting, teens asked the policemen to help them write a proposal for facilities. The teens also formed the Reston Teen Association, a group which will work with other community organizations to work out problems relating to youth.

The Board charged the SI Committee to take on the Youth Committee project of working on teen problems and to move forward with proposals on long-range planning for facilities.

The Board also interpreted the charge not to preclude short term use of existent facilities.

The next meeting of the RCA Board will be Monday, Sept. 8 at 8 p.m. in Lake Anne Hall.

The RCA Board also approved moving forward with the preparation of a brochure which will briefly outline just what RCA is and just what Reston is supposed to be. The brochure will not compete with one presently being distributed at the visitors' center by a group of Restonians. The Board lent its moral support to that effort and intends to include that brochure with its own.

Treasurer Carol Arnold announced that Debbie Hodge will work with the annual membership drive. The Board voted to initiate the drive with a pancake breakfast in the Plaza Saturday, Sept. 27. Further details will be available later.

Scouts Will Meet

Boy Scout Troop 1531 will hold its fall election of Staff and Patrol Leaders at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Sept. 7 at the Washington Plaza Baptist Church. Boys 11 or over are welcome to join. Boys transferring from other troops are urged to come.

Town Crier

to have presided over the "saving" of Reston, and for that we are forever indebted to him.

Important Characteristics

With Mr. Magness now in charge, Reston has over 7,000 people living here, a maturing community more than twice the size of the Southwest Virginia town I grew up in. It has a Homeowners Associations Director and a Reston Foundation Director, an RCA and a League of Women Voters, a Nature Center, a day care center, the Reston Players, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, churches, schools, pre-schools, a Spring Festival, a summer Music Center, a chorale, the Steeplechase race, a Christmas celebration, a Democratic Club — the list is too long to finish. Its most important characteristics, to me, are its open occupancy and its feeling of community.

So, Reston's Community Relations Director, whom it thankfully no longer needs, confidently and lovingly wishes it well, and plans to return in seven years to live in Fellowship Square (negotiations for which were started early in 1964!).

Frater ave atque vale.

P.S. If any reader wonders what I was supposed to be doing in Reston all these years, he may see my official job description in the files.

Letter -- Missed Point

prove it.

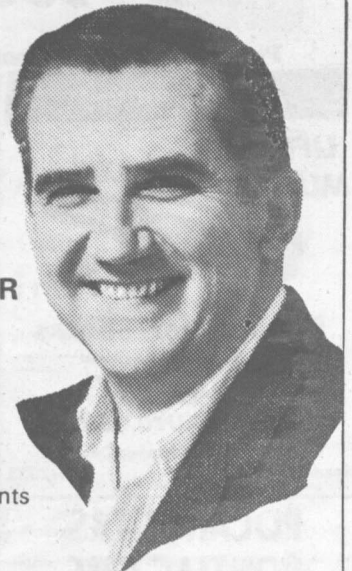

If we don't wake Gulf Reston up to the realities of this situation, the opportunities for solving these problems will be seized elsewhere, while Reston becomes part of the urban dilemma.

New Realtor Moves Into Info. Center

Long & Foster Real Estate, Inc., a properties sales and management company, has moved into new quarters in the Information Center, 11401 North Shore Drive.

The Reston Branch of the firm, which has its first office at 8301 Arlington Blvd., Fairfax, will be managed by William Giroux, a graduate of New Mexico State.

Giroux is moving to Hunters Woods in the near future.

Long & Foster was founded just over a year ago by P. Wesley Foster, Jr., and Henry A. Long. Foster is a graduate of VMI, and Long is a graduate of VPI.

According to Giroux, the year-old company has shown excellent growth with over $4-million in sales in its first year and is now showing every indication of $10-million during its second year.

Giroux also said that the firm has three openings for qualified sales personnel. No experience is necessary as pre-licensing training is offered as well as continued on-the-job training.

Walker To Speak At Park Council

Vernon Walker, the director of the Nature Center, will present an hour and a half panel discussion at the National Recreation and Parks Association Congress to be held Sept. 14-18 in Chicago.

The Congress will be attended by an estimated 5,000 parks, recreation and conservation professionals.

Walker organized and will take part in a session entitled: "New Cities: Man in Contact with Nature" Sept. 15. Sharing the panel with him will be Dr. Richard L. James, Executive Director of the Schuylkill Valley Nature Center, an in-town nature center in Philadelphia, and Kenneth Thelan, Associate Director of the National Service's "Summer in the Parks" program, a program for inner-city residents.

Walker's topic will be "The Total Environment Approach in the New Town of Reston." Emphasis of the session will be on educating town and city residents to an understanding of their environment.

MRS. TANNER

Mrs. Tanner Gets GRI Designation

Mrs. Joanna M. Tanner, Vice-President of Wellborn Properties, Inc. has earned her GRI (Graduate Realtors' Institute) designation this summer. Mrs. Tanner attended the Realtor's Institute at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville for the past three years. Each year consists of an intensive week's training program of 30 hours covering all phases of the real estate business from sales and listing techniques to such sophisticated subjects as joint ventures.

In addition to her academic achievements in Charlottesville Mrs. Tanner was elected secretary for this year by the student body.

Mrs. Tanner, who lives with her husband Eric and son John in McLean, is a licensed salesman and broker and has been with Wellborn Properties since its beginning.

In addition to her many duties as property manager for Wellborn, she still finds time to be active in the local Board of Realtors serving on the following committees: Program and Entertainment (Acting Chairman); Education Committee; Governmental and Liaison Committee. She is also president of the NVBR's Women's Council.

30 Assemble For HW Search

Nearly 30 volunteers assembled on Soapstone Drive late Thursday night to begin a search for two children reported lost in the surrounding woods for several hours.

Members of the Navy-Vale and Herndon Volunteer Fire Departments as well as three units of the Fairfax County Police were on the scene to organize the search, which turned out to be unnecessary when the two boys returned home at about 10 p.m.

The two, six and 11, were reported frightened but otherwise all right, and after a short rest they ventured forth to thank firemen and policemen for their concern and help.

Out of The Fog

Promises—Promises—Promises You almost hardly don't know what to believe anymore. After much hopeful anticipation, generated by great fan-fare, the month of May has long since come and gone and California still hasn't fallen into the ocean. It just doesn't seem to me that the state has acted in good faith.

****

Well, up on the list of items on the menu that I do not choose to order is yogurt-avocado soup. Desperate -- maybe. That desperate -- no.

****

If a television rematch of William Buckley, Jr., and Gore Vidal can't be arranged, a pretty good substitute might be to set up one between Jacqueline Susann and Al Capp.

Lunch Price May Go Up

Unless more students buy their lunches at the schools, Assistant Superintendent for School Service Ralph E. Buckley has warned, school lunch prices will increase from their present 35 cents elementary rate, 45 cents secondary and $1 a month kindergarten snack rates.

"We want to do everything possible to encourage much greater participation in this program, since only this growth will enable us to hold the line on present prices," Buckley said.

Last year the schools only had 58 percent participation. Buckley said that the only way to offset increased prices was to have more children participate in the program.
